A satellite-style map of Europe at night, showing city lights and terrain. Three concentric red dashed circles are drawn over the map, centered on the Mediterranean region. The innermost circle covers the Mediterranean basin, the middle circle covers the entire European continent, and the outermost circle covers the entire European landmass and surrounding seas. The text "KRIG I EUROPA" is centered over the map.

A satellite map of Europe and the surrounding regions, including parts of North Africa, the Middle East, and Iceland. A grid of latitude and longitude lines is overlaid on the map. A red dashed line outlines a large area covering most of Europe, from the British Isles in the west to the Balkans in the east, and from the North Sea in the north to the Mediterranean in the south. A blue dashed line follows a similar path but is shifted further west and south, encompassing the entire region shown. The word "REAR" is written in blue capital letters in the western part of the map, and "FRONT" is written in red capital letters in the eastern part of the map.
